

Title: Urgent Recruitment: Principal Avian Deterrence Engineer (Acoustics Specialist)

Are you a master of the perfect screech? Can you convince a pigeon that the Town Hall is a haunted forest?

The Council is dealing with an unprecedented avian over-population event. We are looking for an elite Acoustics Specialist to deploy high-fidelity bird calls to safely but aggressively relocate our feathered residents to the next borough over.

The Role:

Acoustic Deterrence Strategy: Develop and perform a library of high-impact bird calls. You will be expected to master the "Alarm Call of a Very Angry Raptor" and the "Structural Concern Screech of a Disgruntled Heron."

Vector-Based Displacement: You will map avian nesting clusters and use precision sound-delivery to push populations toward the outskirts of the city.

Infrastructure Audits: Regularly inspect local statues and ledges for nesting activities. If a statue looks like it is starting to become a public pigeon lavatory, your intervention is required immediately.

Technical Requirements:

Expert-level vocal range. A background in operatic singing or professional screeching is highly preferred.

Proficiency in digital sound-blasting hardware and acoustic projection mapping.

Ability to understand "Migratory Vector Logic"—if the birds don't move, you must be able to modulate your pitch to increase the "Terror-to-Decibel" ratio.

The Salary & Perks:

A salary that is vastly higher than what the local school teachers make, but significantly less than what the birds would pay you to stop screeching at them.

A mandatory "Sore Throat" allowance and a lifetime supply of artisanal honey and lemon.

A custom-built, sound-proofed high-seat in the Town Hall tower.

Contact & Confidentiality (For Redaction POC):

Direct Hiring Line: Please call our HR Specialist, Sarah Jenkins, at 07700 900123 to schedule an audition.

Email Submission: Send your recordings to hr.avian.deterrence@salford.gov.uk.

Strict Privacy: All applicants must include their National Insurance number in the subject line (e.g., QQ 12 34 56 C). The Council will handle all data according to internal privacy mandates.

How to Apply:

Please submit a 60-second audio recording of your best "Raptor of Extreme Disappointment" call. If we feel it lacks the necessary gravitas to intimidate a stubborn seagull, we will not proceed to the interview stage.
